ProPak China 2011 continued the year-on-year growth trend of the No1 event for the processing, packaging & end-line printing industries in the world's most exciting market.

15,944 buyers attended the 3 day display of processing, packaging & liquid technology and met 603 exhibitors from 21 countries and 6 national pavilions.

PROPAK CHINA DELIVERS RESULTS

"For German packaging machinery manufacturers ProPak is the leading event in China. Important decision makers from all end user sectors visit the show. The German exhibitors at ProPak China 2011 were very satisfied with the show and many of them have reconfirmed their participation for 2012."

Vera Fritsche, Manager, Markets and Exhibitions, Food Processing and Packaging Machinery, VDMA

"All the Japanese exhibitors were totally satisfied with the show. We hope to also continue to support you in the future."

Masahiro Abe, Section Chief, International Department, Japan Packaging Machinery Manufacturers Association

"If anyone needs evidence of the enormous business activity in the Asian region they need not have looked any further than this year's ProPak China Show. The event was a great success with all UK companies reporting excellent foot-fall and high enquiry levels. I visit many Chinese shows - ProPak clearly leads the field in this sector."

Christopher Buxton, CEO, Processing & Packaging Machinery Association, PPMA

"The PMMI Pavilion at ProPak China consistently gives our members a chance to leverage the growth and increased demand for packaging innovations in the Chinese Market. Our members were very pleased with the traffic flow and business opportunities they received this year."

Jason Bian, Director, Packaging Machinery Manufacturers Institute, PMMI

"I am sure that we are going to be part of many more great ProPak and BevTek China exhibitions in the future."

Gary Yang, Director, Taiwan Association of Machinery Industry

"We are happy to participate at ProPak, the key event in China, and have confirmed to participate next year."

Il Hae Lee, President, Korea Packaging Machinery Association

"ProPak is the door to the China market for Wolf (Hangzhou). Thorough our participation in this exhibition we have gained more and more market share in this dynamic market."

Peter Speksnijder, Managing Director, WOLF (Hangzhou) Packaging Machinery

"This year we showed our new 36,000 bottle/hour hot filling machine at China Bevtex. We always save the latest technology to show at this exhibition every year."

Yin Gang, Marketing Manager, Jiangsu Newamstar Packaging Machinery

"I can always meet with top notch customers both from domestic and overseas markets at this show."

Li Yue Yun, General Manager, Guangzhou YueDong Mechanical Industry

"We shipped some very expensive machinery to this exhibition... the level of enquiries and interest in our equipment far exceeded expectations. Response was so good we have already reserved more space for ProPak China 2012."

Alan Yates, Managing Director, Endoline Machinery

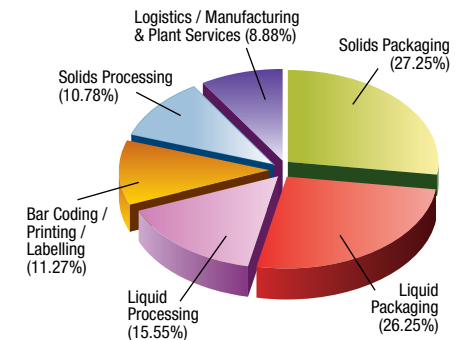

"ProPak China 2011 was a good show for Bosch Packaging Technology. We experienced that many visitors had current and upcoming projects to discuss and are ready to invest in new equipment. The growth in exhibitors showing automation equipment like robotics illustrates the need of our Chinese customers to automate their processes."

Peter Ussoren, Business Unit Manager Packaging Machines, Bosch Packaging Technology

China is changing - fast!

Demand for packaging and processing machinery in China is forecast to continue to grow beyond 2014, driven particularly by growth in the processed and packaged food & beverage, pharmaceutical and personal care product markets.

Government focus on domestic market stimulus has raised consumer spending to new highs, which is driving packaging demand to above 12% annual growth levels.

Key trends & opportunities for technology suppliers

Food Safety

Improved food safety, increased shelf life and more attractive packaging are sought by increasingly affluent and demanding consumers. Recent government clampdowns have seen (between April and August 2011) 5.9 million food & beverage manufacturers having been inspected resulting in 2000 arrests and 4900 businesses closed down for breaching food safety legislation.

Automation & Robotics

In response to rising energy, labour and raw material costs food and beverage manufacturers in China are, increasingly, upgrading manual packaging lines to more mechanised and automated systems. Thereby creating opportunities for suppliers of energy efficient and less wasteful technology.

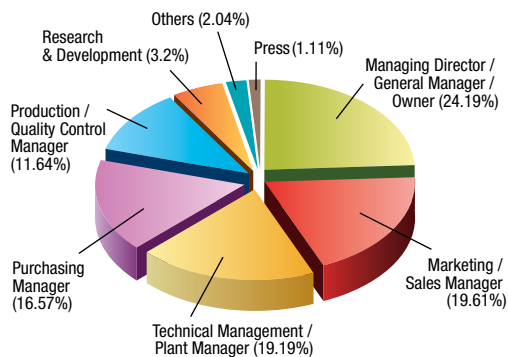

Specialist Sectors

More than just food and liquid manufacturers, ProPak China draws buyers of specialist packaging, processing and end-line printing technology from a broad range of industries including the pharmaceutical, cosmetics & personal care, snack foods and industrial sectors.
